

Form 1: Title page with project information and a central box for details.

Form 2: Detailed text block containing project specifications and requirements.

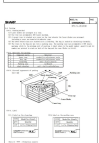

Form 3: A table with multiple columns and rows, likely a schedule or resource list.

Form 5: A table with a small line graph or chart integrated into the data rows.

Form 6: A table with multiple columns and rows, possibly a data summary or comparison table.

Form 7: A form with several sections, including checkboxes and text input fields.

Form 9: A text block with a structured layout, possibly a list of items or a detailed description.